COLIN LEWIS

I am a UX Engineer. In this role, I solve digital problems through combining my years of experience as a designer, front-end developer, illustrator, and writer. I work with Design Thinking to prototype and build websites that focus on user needs and make clients happy.

EXPERIENCE

UX Engineer, Scruples Studio
Remote · 2020–present

Scruples Studio was established to produce work that benefits the world. At Scruples, I help create privacy-focused, inclusive, sustainable websites that have a positive impact for users and organisations.

Developer, Codeable
Remote · 2019–present

Codeable is an exclusive freelancer platform that connects businesses with premium WordPress developers. My responsibilities span the entire range of a web project: ideation, strategy and design, UX research and testing, prototyping, custom theme development, client education, and more.

Designer, Unlikely Objects
Karlskrona, Sweden · 2017–present

Unlikely Objects is a storytelling studio that produces digital experiences and unusual books that combine literature, film, interactivity and delight.

Associate, Hoxby
Remote/UK · 2019–2020

Hoxby is an exclusive group that provides custom, hand-picked teams of remote freelancers to large-scale and scale-up clients.
